VALUABLE HINTS ON CLATSOP FLAX

EXPERT OPINION FROM EUGENE BOSSE, ON THE QUALITIES AND VALUES OF FLAX GROWN IN THIS COUNTY.

Shortly after the close of the late very successful Farmers' Fair, which proved itself such a popular adjunct to the 1906 regatta, in this city, the active genius of that fine exhibit, Judge J. Q. A. Bowlby, concluded that an expert opinion on the quality of Clatsop county flax display there would be of value and the fine specimens furnished by F. Bartoldus were despatched to the Pacific Coast Flax Fibre Company, at Salem, for examination, and yesterday the following opinion was received from the hand of Eugene Bosse, one of the world's best experts on flax and all its industrial qualities and values:

"Salem, Ore., Oct. 10, 1906.
"Hon. J. Q. A. Bowlby, Astoria, Ore.
"Dear Sir—I have received the samples of flax. It shows that the land which produced it is the proper soil and climate for growing flax to perfection; but it was evidently grown too thick and it is too coarse to make good fibre.
"The flax for fibre should be sown with at least eighty pounds of 'linen seed' per acre. Very truly yours,
(Signed.) "EUGENE BOSSE."

More Incorporations—All new business ventures in Astoria seem to take the corporate form, as witness the two new concerns that came within the public purview yesterday: Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday afternoon with County Clerk Clinton, in behalf of the Astoria Timber & Lumber company, of which Asmus Brix, P. J. Brix and Albert Brix are the incorporators; the capital stock is placed at $50,000 in 500 shares of the par value of $100 each. The objects of the company are to pursue the logging industry in all its various phases from the tree to transportation as lumber. The American Importing company, with Max Skibbe, John P. McCann and Martin Rancosovitch, as incorporators; the capital stock is placed at $15,000, in 150 shares at $100 each, par value; and the intention of the concern is to follow the lines of merchandising, but in just what commodity is not set forth.

Handsome Entertainment—The Symphony club of this city has warm and enthusiastic patrons and friends in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Laws, at whose pleasant Grand avenue home the club meets with regularity each Monday. Wednesday last being the anniversary of the birth of W. C. Laws, their son, Mr. and Mrs. Laws gathered 11 of the available members of the club and marched them off to the star, where the evening's bill was thoroughly enjoyed by all and certainly by the sympathetic group who had the good fortune to be the guests of the occasion.

Ex-Editor in the City—Walter Lyon, one time, and not so long ago, editor and proprietor of this paper, and later of the Independence West Side, which latter property he has just disposed of, arrived in Astoria on last night's express, on a matter of business, and spent an hour at this office where all hands were glad to see him. Mr. Lyon returns to the metropolis on this morning's train.

Money Not Deposited—Despite the fact that a city ordinance recently passed requires that the Home Telephone and Telegraph company deposit $1,000 with the city auditor, they have, up to this time, failed to do so, probably considering that the erection of poles on Franklin avenue is sufficient to retain the franchise.

Appeal Ready—Transcript in the case of Robtch against Nehalem Coal company, decided in favor of plaintiff in the circuit court here has been prepared by County Clerk Clinton, and the appeal will now go to the Supreme court.

Irving Club Meeting—The regular meeting of the Commercial-Industrial committee of the Irving club was held last evening and routine business was transacted only.

"THE CHARITY CHILD."

A delightful comedy, ably presented—such as "The Charity Child," as produced last night by the Mack Swain Company, at the Star Theater. It is a play that enlists the attention from the start and holds it until the finish—a story of love, of devotion to duty and noble self-sacrifice, of the awakening of a young girl's heart, of the struggle between love and duty in the soul of man, that points a moral and adorns the tale, and leaves one all the better for having seen and heard. Cora King Swain was charming as "Sylvia Somers," the orphan ward of "David Holmes," the journalist, at all times natural and unaffected, portraying with consummate skill the various moods and emotions of a young girl's mind, the conflicting passions of a woman's soul; one moment a bright young creature, full of life and the joy of living, at the next a woman who knows what it is to suffer because of a love that she believes unrequited. Mr. Layne is deserving of unstinted praise for his masterly portrayal of "David Holmes;" Mr. Frank as David's brother, "Gerald," gave a most pleasing performance; Jas. Wright and Jas. Miller, as the youthful journalists, "Archibald Savage" and "Harold Reynolds," were excellent; Mr. Hutchinson, as the old book-worm "Mulberry," and Mr. Berrell as the plodding secretary, "Martin Boggs," were true to life; Anna Jordan, as "Helen Le Grand" was pretty and more than pleasing, and Laisy D'Arvo as "Miss Centina" shared in the general excellence. The same play will be repeated tonight.

"RAILROAD JACK" TOMORROW.

The new "Rail Road Jack" company, which is to appear at the Astoria Theater Saturday evening, Oct. 13, augurs well for the management of the fortunate house which secures this attraction. All the Eastern cities have laughed themselves sick over the adventures of "Jack Raggles," the humorous tramp. It has been well tried and proven a successful vehicle to enrich its author, and at the same time give the public who have been lucky enough to see it, an unlimited value for the money they expend to sit it through. The fact is, they could not be satisfied to see a portion only, for the play so abounds in fun, satire and all the elements that combine to make an amusing connected story, that to miss a portion of it is an aggravation. This season Manager Christ has selected the thespian favorites for "Rail Road Jack" with the utmost care. Each artist has been engaged for his or her well known ability and each one selected to portray the various characters allotted to them. The story is unfolded bit by bit until the denouement. The climax of every act is a side-splitter and the roars of laughter are spontaneous and full of comic situations. This year the management promises a treat. All the specialties are new, songs, dances, scenery, mechanical effects and music in every form sufficient in number to please the most fastidious taste and excellent in quality to satisfy the most exacting. Box office open tomorrow at 11 a. m. Prices, 75c, 50c, 35c, and 25c.

THE BIG MINSTRELS COMING.

The King of Minstrelsy, Hi Henry, and his brand new, big double Minstrel Show, will appear at the Astoria theater Monday, Oct. 15. Every act is entirely new and the scenery and electrical effects alone occupy an entire car in transportation. The grand ensemble of the first part introduces moonlight, rippling water, fleeting clouds, cathedral chimes and is an ideal conception of the palace of Aladin, from the famous illusion of "The Arabian Nights." This gorgeous spectacle has never been equaled on the minstrel stage and presents a scene of beauty and grandeur long to be remembered and yet this is but one part of the famous big minstrel show. Tickets are now on sale.

Morning Astorian, 60 cents per month.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Among the visitors in the city today are F. Colbentz and F. J. Durham, both of Portland.
Mr. G. W. Tackabury, one of the most prominent liquor representatives in the west, whose friends are many and business large, is at the Occident.
Mr. Geo. Frankland, the busy advance man for the coming attraction "A Convict's Daughter," is busy drawing a good house to hear "Col. Lee's reminiscence story to Jack."
